CASTLEGARDE CASTLE

Whilst enjoying the scenery amidst the heart of the Golden Vale, you will tour 12th century Castlegarde, the oldest continually inhabited, haunted castle in Ireland.

With it's 1820's extension architecture by the famed Pain brothers, watched by obscure stone effigies and haunted by the mysterious lady in silk, Castlegarde is just begging to be explored!

*"Thank you for the most exciting school day ever, it made history come alive for me."
- A pupil of Tineteriffe National School, Co. Limerick*

GRENANE HOUSE

Grenane House is a breathtaking Georgian home set amid 300 acres, where the family has resided since the early 17th century.

Enjoy a stroll through Victorian walled gardens and feast your eyes on a childrens' play room that will make you feel as though you've turned the page into your very own storybook.

*"A wonderful experience, with a beautiful house and garden. The hostess provided an enthralling insight both of the local history as well as that of the Family who have lived here for so long."
- Jorg, Denmark*

LISMACUE HOUSE

With magnificent views of the Galtee Mountains, Lismacue House is a classically proportioned picturesque Georgian Home set amid a 200 acre estate. It has been family owned and occupied since 1704.

Lismacue House boasts gorgeous and unique plasterwork with high ceilings and original wallpaper from 1813.

*"My visit to Lismacue House was a highlight of my time in Tipperary. The main house is full of history and Kate and Jim, the charming hosts, made it come alive with their stories."
- Ann Holmes, Toronto*
